I recently began reading Tattoos on the Heart: The Power of Boundless Compassion by Gregory Boyle, SJ. Fr. Boyle founded a gang intervention program in Los Angeles that serves 15,000 gang members each year. This book tells modern day parables about the men and women he has met through his ministry. Tattoos is a stirring book that invites us to look at how full our lives could be if we learn to feel worthy of God's love.

Boyle often finds himself in situations when he prays, "Be Fearless for me O God." I would guess that many of us often find us in situations when we feel overwhelmed, possibly a bit fearful of what is ahead. Might we, like Fr. Greg use the mantra, "Be Fearless for me O God." Breathe it in, let it out...as we walk the quarter mile, climb the stairs to our apartment or exercise each time the feeling of fear begins to creep in our spirit and mind. And, as the semester ends and if you find yourself looking for a good summer read, think about picking up Tattoos on the Heart. I have laughed, been challenged and thought about compassion and empathy while reading it.

Next weekend is our end of the year picnic. Bishop Matthew Clark will be the presider at our 10 am Mass. Please join us - you can sign up for the picnic by email - amncpm@rit.edu or sign up at Mass.

Are you graduating this year? Baccalaureate Mass will be on Thursday, May 18th at 7 pm in the Allen Chapel for all graduates and their family members and friends. So that we know how many are coming, please sign up at Masses or email amncpm@rit.edu

Remember we are here for you! Peace and good,
