Throughout the summer, Newman continues to have the 10 am Mass. If you are on campus or in Rochester, come join us!

July 9th, after the 10 am Mass, we will have a coffee hour in the Skalny Room. All are welcome!

This weekend Alice is at the International Thomas Merton Conference that is being held at St. Bonaventure (yeah, not much of a drive)! I will be helping with the conference and a fun fact is that Merton heard the call to become a Trappist during the time he taught at Bonaventure. For more fun facts, read The Seven Storey Mountain, his autobiography.

Today we celebrate the Feast of Corpus Christi, also known as the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ. The readings this weekend give rich images to help us understand this feast...manna, cup of blessing, one loaf, living bread. As we listen to the word of God today, allow yourself to soak in these images and other images that remind us of all the ways we are fed through relationships, gathering around the table and most of all, at the table of the Eucharist.

A few years ago, I was invited to write for a website begun here in the Diocese of Rochester. The authors write reflections based on the readings of the weekend. My turn came around again and my most recent reflection is for the feast we celebrate this weekend. You can find the website at godswordmanyvoices.org -Click on the preaching tab and scroll down to June 18, 2017. This reflection is my thoughts about today's feast and hopefully helping us remember in an everyday sort of way all the ways God is present to us in our days as well as at the table of the Eucharist. It is my hope that you might find this a prayerful reflection to enhance your weekly liturgical celebration.

Enjoy these warm days. Please remember those in our community who are ill. Please keep them in your thoughts and prayers. I look forward to returning to campus on Monday, June 19. Please reach out if there is anyway I or Deacon Dave can be helpful.

Peace and good,

Alice
