RIT NATION

We are half way through the semester and our eyes are on a fun Brick City Weekend as well as looking towards Thanksgiving! We can see the turkey...we can do it!

I recently spoke with someone who was having roommate issues. This person really likes the roommate, but the said roommate drives this person crazy! I am sure many of us understand the feeling. It is those everyday habits that sometimes set us off...toothpaste in the sink, not picking up after oneself, leaving dirty dishes around....I said, "It's really hard to hate someone close up. Move in." Now, I will admit, this was not an original thought. I read it a few weeks ago, and have found it helpful myself. When we find ourselves irritated by someone, many of us walk away from the situation. We sometimes complain to others and never really address the issue. The author of this quote is suggesting just the opposite...try to use the virtue of compassion and mercy. Rather than get stuck in our frustration or complain to others, move in a bit closer, engage this person in your life and you just might find yourself in a better place to talk about the things that aren't working so well.

We have lots of events and service opportunities coming up in the next few weeks. As always, all are welcome!

- Evening Away @ RIT - Thursday, October 19 5:30 pm—8:00/8:30 pm— Looking for a chance to unplug for a few hours? Want to get away but really can't take the time for a whole weekend away? Try an Evening Away at RIT. We will meet at the Skalny Room at 5:30 for a delicious dinner and time of reflection/conversation/mini retreat experience. You will be out the door and on your way by 8:00/8:30 pm. All are welcome. Dietary considerations? We can accommodate. Please let us know when you sign up for this evening.
- Afternoon of Service - Sunday, October 22 12:30—4:30 pm -Newman @ RIT has developed a partnership with the Mercy Spirituality Center. Each fall, we go to the center and put away the outdoor furniture as well as the Creation Stations. In the spring, we get it out again! We have a chance to enjoy a good meal and get a little exercise as well as be helpful to the staff at the Spirituality Center. All are welcome. We typically work for about 2.5 hours. If you have dietary considerations, please let us know. We can accommodate!
- Bethany House Dinner- Sunday, October 22 3 pm prepare dinner/5 pm deliver/eat - Each month, Newman prepares and serves dinner for the residents of Bethany House. What is unique, we get the opportunity to sit down with the residents of Bethany House and share a meal together. We learn as much as we serve!
