Dear Friends,

This morning as I drove to campus I listened to the song,
Open My Eyes by Jesse Manibusan.

Open my eyes Lord, Help me to see Your face. Open my eyes, Lord. Help me to see.

Open my ears Lord, Help me to hear Your voice. Open my ears, Lord. Help me to hear.

Open my heart, Lord, Help me to love like You. Open my heart, Lord. Help me to love.

I have witnessed many in this community show the face of God over and over again. I have witnessed generous and caring hearts offering compassion and love in simple and everyday ways. And I think this is one of the reasons Newman continues to grow...compassion, generosity and love. Others have come to know that Newman is a place where people care for one another.

My time here at Newman has been rich. Together we have continued to build a community where all are welcome: welcome to pray as they feel comfortable, question and learn what it means to be a Catholic Christian in a somewhat confusing world in which we live.

I would ask that you also welcome the new associate director with the same warmth, love and commitment to Newman that you welcomed me. Continue to do what you do well—caring for one another and those on the margins of our communities. Look for those who are on the outside of the circle and welcome them closer. Take some time each day to quietly listen to God whisper into your ear. God's voice often comes in places we least expect to hear and in ways that might cause us to question. That's ok!

Know that as I begin my ministry at St. Bonaventure University on Monday, you will be in my thoughts and prayers. I will carry you with me each morning as I sit in quiet.

Peace and good my friends!

Alice
