Newman Notes:

Welcome to RIT and welcome home! I am so happy to have you join our wonderful RIT Newman Community. If we haven't met yet, I'm Kim Winden, the new Associate Director of the Newman Catholic Community. I feel so blessed to be here, and so PUMPED about this year now that I have met a ton of students and local residents. It didn't take long at ALL for me to realize what a tight-knit family RIT Newman is, and I can't express in words how happy I am to be a part of this family.

Whether you're new to RIT or an upper classman, you may find yourself feeling lost and a little frustrated trying to get into the swing of things. Change is hard, and that includes changing routine and location when going from summer to school. I remember moving back to my college campus after summer break and feeling so excited to see my college friends, to start new classes, and to try new things. But I also remember feeling overwhelmed trying to keep up with moving in, seeing everyone, learning a new routine, and juggling so many things at once. I get it! Just know that everyone is feeling that same excitement as well as the same hesitations. And know that your Newman community is here to walk that path with you. Think of Newman as your family that will not only be a faith community to walk with, but also a support system for everything you encounter. Your Newman staff, student leaders, and support system will never let you feel alone...and never let you go hungry...we promise to feed your soul and your stomach! ☺

As you start your classes I have 3 challenges for you...

1. See God in everyone you encounter. This might be a stressful week, but challenge yourself to see God in every situation and every person you interact with.
2. Visit Newman in the Interfaith Center at least once THIS WEEK. Come say hi to me so I can start to learn more names and faces...I would appreciate the visit and I would love to know you.
3. Do an act of kindness for at least one person EVERY. SINGLE. DAY. this week. We live in a fast-paced world where people tend to put on blinders and go about their business. Do something that will allow someone to experience God's love and grace.

That's your homework for this week.

God Bless, and welcome (back) to RIT! Go Tigers!

Kim Winden
